

Port Esperanza, July 2015

To the Foundation for the Sustainable Development in the North and South America

To transform lives through education is one of the missions that has imposed us as educator before taking a job in this Institution of education of Port Esperanza.

But we knew that this challenge was not an easy task and that we, teachers, could not carry it out alone, without the help of the institutions which committed themselves to the quality of education of children, youth, adults of our country, especially of our region.

Nevertheless for the providence of God, we have received the constant support of the Foundation for Sustainable Development in North and South America which, with their noble gesture of social commitment and responsibility, has provided us all kinds of help in order to cooperate in the strengthening of the education in our community.

The contributions that the Foundation has granted to this Institution of Education brought of great value and utility for the development of a good process of teaching-training, which, for example, today count on the pavilion constructed with the solid materials that provided us more wide, sure, comfortable classrooms. Also we have to mention the recent help which is the renovation of the Institution with the classrooms painted inside and outside, the schoolyard completely enclosed with wire netting and many other works realized with the hands of the Foundation.

Therefore all the components of the educative families, which is composed of the director, teachers, the parents and students show the deep gratitude for such valuable help.

Thank you, from the deepest heart, to the directors and members of Foundation, to the volunteers who came from the different parts of the world in order to offer their help, to those in charge of such laudable project and to all who committed and offered themselves to improve the quality of education in this indigenous community of Esperanza.

We pray with all our heart to God that He may bless you always to the Foundation for the sustainable development in the North and South America so that in this way you continue to support and help this mission that has given us in Esperanza, which is "Transform lives through education."
